

BADGERS ON SHORT END OF IOWA SCORE

Madison, Jan. 20.—Iowa handed Wisconsin January a 21 to 20 defeat here last night. At the end of the first half Wisconsin led with the score 17 to 6. The Iowans made a spirited comeback and in a whirlwind finish proved too much for the Badgers.

Shimok, Iowa's little forward, couldn't miss a free throw. Dropping in seven without a miss, he added four points with two long field goals. Play in Flashes

The game was rather ragged throughout with flashes of snappy dribbling and good passing. Wisconsin outplayed Iowa in the first half. Iowa took chances on long shots at the basket with poor results.

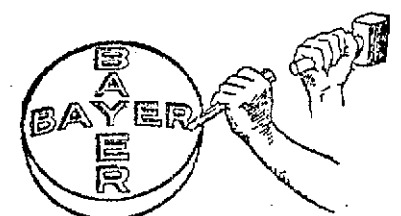

In the second half, Iowa's luck changed and the ball fell through the iron hoop from all parts of the floor.

Capt. Knapp of Wisconsin made four out of six free throws and capped three baskets. Iowa won in the last few minutes of play with two field goals and a free throw.

Yellow Mustard For Rheumatism

A good hot mustard plaster or poultice is really sure to overcome most rheumatic pains and even sciatica, even gout but it's a messy affair and generally blisters. Heat is absolutely necessary if you want permanent relief. Beag's Mustard, made of the yellow mustard with the pain relieving ingredients added is just as hot, is cheaper, cleaner and more effective than the old fashioned poultice or plaster and cannot blister.

Besides rheumatic pains and swellings Beag's Mustard is especially effective for lumbago, backache, neuralgia, pleurisy, bronchitis, sore throat, chest colds and all aches and pains because heat causes pain—30 and 60 cents.

MUSTARDINE

Important to all Women. Readers of this Paper.

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

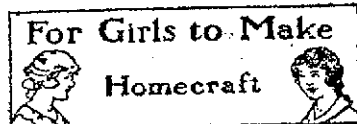

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

For Girls to Make Homecraft

Useful Things of Cretone

By Carolyn Sherwin Bailey. Often the shops that sell beautiful fabrics, have a display of bright cretone, pillow size. Two or three of these will be enough for your room.

The New Cretone Pillow. What is the color of your room? blue, pink or yellow? Whatever color you choose, make a pillow cover of that color in plain linen or a cotton material. Carefully cut out the flowers or birds from a piece of paper of a contrasting color and sew them with small over and over stitches to the plain background. These designs should be artistically arranged, not too close together, vary one size. If you want a very gay one use a black cover, satin or cambric.

A Ten Set. If you have a chafing dish or a tea service in your room to use in entertaining your girl friends, after dinner, why not make a table cover and small napkins to use with them?

Use coarse, unbleached linen. Cut tiny flower bouquets or pieces of flowers from a length of chintz that has a small, bright design. Sew these chintz figures to one corner of each of the napkins and to the four corners of the table cover just as you put them on the pillow cover. The stitches will hardly show if you make them fine enough. Last of all, fold them from a length of chintz, still them down with mercerized cotton that matches the prevailing color of the chintz design. This set will be really beautiful, and so different.

For Phone Numbers. The scraps of cretone that are left will make a dainty telephone card about the size of a cabinet photograph is the foundation. Cut a piece of cretone, and glue it to the card, glue it on, and then cover the whole with some sort of firm lining material. Cut a back and front of cretone, fold the edges in, and cover them together, covering the cardboard. Last of all glue a small note hook or pad to the center of the cretone, add a colored card, and hang it up beside the telephone.

For Boys to Make Handicraft

Home-made Call Buzzer

By Grant M. Hyde. Every Boy's Mother would be grateful for a signal or buzzer system leading from a boy's room to the kitchen so that she might call him by pressing a button.

The boy who does not feel capable of making a buzzer can buy a cheap bell or buzzer at an electric shop. His job then is merely to string the line, and in most houses gas, water, or steam pipes will serve as one wire.

He will then fasten the buzzer to the wall in his room, run an insulated copper wire from one of its connections to a pair of dry cells, then to the nearest pipe. The main line wire he will string above picture mouldings, over ceilings by the shortest, least conspicuous route, to the downstairs button. From the button he will run another wire to the nearest pipe. Grounding on any pipe will complete the circuit and cause no danger.

HOME-MADE BUZZER. To make a buzzer, one must first make a pair of magnets. For cores (A and A'), use two 2-in. bolts; take out temper by heating red hot and allowing to cool slowly. Fit them with round noseboard end-pieces in (B, B, B, B') to hold the wiring. Then wind them carefully like a spool of thread with very fine magnet wire one clockwise and the other counter-clockwise, as shown. Then put the core-bolts through a piece of wood, 3x4x1/2 in. (C) and set up the nuts. The base (D) should be a heavier piece of wood. For a coil, use a heavy coil of wire, say, a heavy corner steel, fastened to D with screws, so that it stands 1/4 in. from the magnet core ends. The magnet core ends should be fastened to C with staples so that it can be moved. Adjust the wire so that it slips a small wedge wedged into a notch, under E at W.

In operating, the current comes to G; when the current comes, the magnet should draw F to them and break the circuit at G; the F files back again and re-makes the circuit—and so on. Careful adjustments may be needed.

(Tomorrow learn how to hike in the rain.)

Janesville Hotel Company

---A Splendid 6% Investment.

---A Moral and Civic Responsibility.

IT has been very aptly said that "A hotel is the front door of a city." Janesville needs that front door now and needs it badly. With a tremendous industrial development under way, present hotel accommodations are entirely inadequate to supply the needs of the community. A new hotel must be built. The Janesville Hotel Company, a Wisconsin Corporation, is undertaking the work with the expectation of securing the whole-hearted support of the various interests of the city.

$400,000 Must Be Raised

This amount will be secured through stock subscriptions in the Janesville Hotel Company, which has been organized for the purpose of building a modern 150-room, fire proof hotel in our city.

It is expected that the operation of the Hotel will be turned over to an operating company or to an individual on long term lease at sufficient rental to provide 6% on the issue of $400,000 preferred stock, providing also for a sinking fund for its retirement. At least 50% of the entire issue must be subscribed and a Board of Directors elected before lease for location can be made.

The stock will be in shares of $100 each, par value, the dividends to be paid either annually or semi-annually. Stock will be redeemable in whole or in part at $110 and accrued dividends, and will be preferred both as to assets and dividends.

The site for the Hotel will be largely determined by the operators of the Hotel who will be interested in selecting a location to bring the most business to the Hotel.

Every business in the city will directly benefit and profit through the erection and operation of this modern hotel project. It will increase property values. It will mark the opening of a new era in Janesville business.

Janesville must take care of this stock issue. It becomes a duty; it is a splendid investment.

You men of Janesville; you live wires who do things; you are the ones who will profit through this proposition. Get behind it. Assess yourself fairly. Arrange to take your fair share of this stock. Be ready when the solicitors call, or better than that, phone the Chamber of Commerce and give them your subscription right away. No payments will be asked until at least 50% of the entire issue is subscribed. Later payments will be due in installments upon call of the duly elected Board of Directors.

Subscriptions open tomorrow morning, January 21. You owe it to Janesville and yourself to act quickly and fairly in this matter.

Economy PLUS Possession

There are two forms of Thrift:

One is to arbitrarily do without things—to deny oneself certain necessities and comforts of life. This narrows one's enjoyment, often reduces one's physical force and, if widely done, reduces the activity and livelihood of many people.

The APPROVED form of Thrift is to BUY CAREFULLY—to secure and use the things needed for comfort and happiness—but to be sure of good quality—to make things last as long as they render good service—and, most important of all, to buy them WHEN THEY CAN BE BOUGHT AT LOWEST PRICES!

That time, for many needed things, is NOW and HERE!

Remarkable January coactions are being made this week on goods of the RIGHT KINDS, that will give long service, and make people very happy in possessing them.

ANTI-SEDITION LAW ESSENTIAL.
The anti-sedition bill passed by the senate would impair no respectable rights. It aims straight at the criminal enemies of organized society, and at them alone. Well-intentioned persons need have no fear of injustice under its operations. Censorship of the press by the postmaster general or any other official is a possibility offensive to Americans, but evidence abounds that insidious propaganda will be circulated through the mails unless methods of prevention are adopted. The Sterling bill provides for appeals to the court for determination of the justice of exclusion orders issued against publications. With that safeguard for innocence we may be sure that none will suffer save those who deliberately choose to run risks. For that kind we need have no sympathy; they often are worse than open enemies. Disloyalists only will strive to find a "twilight zone" in which they can pursue a nefarious course. What is essential is that the country be rid of all persons who advocate overthrow of the government by force, and those who preach resort to violence or other unlawful means of accomplishing any purpose. Devoted Americans will not shrink from making whatever sacrifices may be called for to secure the nation's safety. No anti-sedition bill that has been proposed, so far as we have knowledge, would limit any political right or personal liberty guaranteed by the Constitution. Every one of them has been designed to check and punish criminal enterprises whose object is the destruction of American liberties. We must have anti-sedition law and it must be enforced fearlessly for the peoples' protection.

WOMEN AS JURORS.
It has been generally assumed that on obtaining the franchise women would discharge the responsibilities incident thereto as well as exercise the privileges, that they would exemplify "equal rights" to the fullest degree. It is, therefore, surprising to find a committee of the New York state bar association expressing its disapproval of the service of women as jurors. "Neither her experience nor her occupation fits or permits her to attend at court, listen to evidence, determine disputes, listen to judicial charges and bring in verdicts. We do not look for women as firemen, longshoremen, pilots, firemen, locomotive engineers or in many other industrial occupations. In our social and economic life the male is bread-winner and the mother and wife is housekeeper, cook and companion and guide of her children. If taken away, her house and children would suffer neglect." This has the familiar sound of the stock arguments against woman suffrage with the text: "Woman's place is in the home." Of more importance is the decision of a New York state justice that when the women gained the right to vote they did not obtain the right to serve on juries, since he directs attention to the necessity for new legislation placing women on a par with men in this respect. The accompanying opinion points out that while citizenship has always been a qualification of jury service, every voter has not been included on the jury lists. General fitness should be the test under the law rather than sex. Logic plays little part in debarring from jury service women who are permitted to vote.

"BRING HOME OUR DEAD."
Whether or not undertakers, organized or otherwise, are manifesting a professional interest in the movement to bring the American soldier dead from Europe should not influence in the slightest those whose duty it is to decide on final disposition of the bodies. The question of whether or not some persons will reap a pecuniary profit from the return to America of our heroic dead can properly have no bearing on the main issue. If it shall appear that vultures in human form are preparing to take advantage of parents who are clamoring for their rights, action in protection of the latter should be taken. But none of these sorrowing ones should be deprived an instant longer than may be necessary. The only sentiment in this case which is worthy of respect is that which pleads for the simple, sincere, sorrowing ones who would have been privileged to lay their dead in graves of their own choosing and there tenderly care for them. Not all the parents of Americans who gave their lives in the world war wish the dead brought home. A great many Americans agree with Roosevelt that our men should lie where they fell in the defense of the right. Those cannot justly claim a voice in the decision as to the resting place of those whose relatives wish them brought home. The government should exert itself to the utmost to gratify the desires of those who plead, "bring home our dead." It will not have discharged its obligation to mothers and fathers who gave their sons in the time of the country's need until the wanted bodies are brought home.

BOLSHEVIST RIOTS IN BERLIN.
Rioting in Berlin which developed into a pitched battle in front of the Reichstag building did not grow out of any popular dissatisfaction with the terms of peace which have been imposed on Germany. It was a bolshevik outburst, the object of which was the seizure by and for the "proletariat" of the industries of the country. The ultimate object, of course, is revolution of "all power to the workers" kind. But the Berlin bolsheviks are less advantageously placed for securing

I'VE BEEN DOWN TO THE BARBER SHOP.
I've been down to the barber shop.
An' I got my hair all trimmed on top.
An' I smell as nice as my Ma when she
Is all fixed up for some company.
I sat in the chair that the men sit in.
An' I wore a sheet up to my chin.
An' the barber said in a real nice way,
"Well, how'd you have it trimmed today?"
I've been down to the barber shop.
An' Ma she didn't have time to stop.
So she left me alone, coz she couldn't wait
To see that the barber cut it straight.
He rigged up a seat like a little shelf.
An' I climbed right up in the chair myself.
An' the barber said, as he got shears,
"Will you have it clipped behind the ears?"
"It looks like snow," said the barber then.
Just the way that he talks to men.
"The winter's long an' the weather's rough,
An' I feel almost like I'd had enough."
An' I talked to him in his barber chair.
Got hair in my eyes, but I didn't care.
Then he said: "Will you try my hand-cut cure?"
An' showed me a bottle, an' I said, "Sure!"
He rubbed some in an' it turned a lot.
For I didn't know that the stuff was hot.
But I didn't cry—I was sittin' there.
Just like my Pa in a barber's chair.
Then I gave him the money when he was through.
An' I got my change, an' I tipped him, too—
I gave him a dime for himself, becuz
I've watched my Pa, an' he always does.

their objects by force than their Russian brethren. No doubt there are plenty of arms and ammunition in Germany yet, but the requisitions made by the victorious countries have had the effect of concentrating the supplies remaining in the government's hands. As a consequence the government is better able to cope with the disturbers than it would have been some months ago. In the recent clash it was shown that it has the will as well as the means to overcome the revolutionaries. It may have to kill a good many more than the score or so fire-eaters who fell before the machine guns' bark during the rush against the national assembly. And it has acted with promptness and determination in declaring martial law throughout the country. As the cables tell the story, the law-makers were debating a bill designed to give legality to the workingmen's councils. Presumably the plan is to assign responsibility to these organizations as well as to define their rights. From what we have read of the resumption of industry in Germany, it is a fair assumption that the majority of workers are reasonably content with the provisions made for them. But the confirmed radicals will be satisfied with nothing less than the destruction of all private property rights. The Berlin mob was made up of that kind. They are not to be deterred in prosecuting the cause of plunder by common knowledge of the failure of their scheme in Russia. That is why they had to be met with bullets and notice served on all of their kind that force would be met with force everywhere in the country.

The Berlin anarchists became peeved when the police started to throw bombs, for only anarchists, you know, have the right to be rude.
The average man is again coming to the opinion that whoever named it the "income" tax was dead wrong.
If it were not for the high cost of living, prohibition and congress, what would people talk about?

Backward Glances
FORTY YEARS AGO
Jan. 29, 1880.—The condition of Barr Robbins remains about the same. Mr. Robbins received frightful injuries about his head when he was hurt on his boat coming down the river night before last. He passed a fairly comfortable night.—A human skull was found on the Spaulding farm this morning and near it were found other human bones. No solution has been found.
THIRTY YEARS AGO
Jan. 20, 1890.—Several cases came up in municipal court this morning. Most of them were adjourned for a few weeks.—The usual interest in skating is being shown by the young folk of the city. Several narrow escapes were experienced yesterday which only resulted in a good wetting for those who fell through the holes.
TWENTY YEARS AGO
Jan. 20, 1900.—All of the 160 girl and women workers who were employed by the cotton company and who struck two days ago for higher pay, took positions in the different warehouses of the city this morning and they state that they are getting the pay for which they struck.—The Manhattan club met last evening and decided to give a number of dances.
TEN YEARS AGO
Jan. 20, 1910.—Three members of the local Y. M. C. A. went to Kenosha this morning to take part in the annual athletic contest there.—The 400 snow shovelers who came to this city to shovel snow in the railroad yards, returned to Chicago today, packed in eleven coaches, their work having been completed.

One General Too Many
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN, Director
Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau.
Washington, D. C.
Washington, Jan. 20.—A question which has been causing much perturbation in high army and administrative circles is that of properly assigning a "general" commanding the armies of the United States. By grace of an appreciative congress this nation now has an official of that rank and title, but either for his rank or the army has no work for him to do.
General Pershing is the highest military dignity in the United States today. He has been of him such a military experience as has come to no other man. But a peacetime organization provides no work for him to do. He is a general without an army, which is a good deal like being a carpenter without tools or a cowboy without pumpkins in this country. In the recent war there were three Americans who ranked as general: Pershing, March, and Bliss. Of these three congress has made the rank of one permanent. Pershing alone emerges as general for life. The Civil war heroes and men attained this coveted mark. They were Grant, Sherman, and Sheridan. Before that but one man in the nation was ever ranked as general and that man was George Washington.
Embarrassment is Created
When congress made the permanent rank of general, commanding the armies of the United States on Pershing, it seems to have done so without taking thought of the situation it would create. It is not the first time that ranks conferred by congress have created embarrassment. There was Madeleine General William L. Sibert, for instance, who had a long career of usefulness back of him as an engineer officer. He built the Gatling gun for the army and congress in appreciation made him major general. It happened that the engineer corps of the army was so organized that there was no provision in it for an officer who ranked so high. So Sibert's profession was taken from him and the nation created that made the utilization of his services difficult until the war presented the task of organizing the chemical warfare service. Admiral Dorey, of the days of the Spanish-American war, the "admiral of the navy." This was a special post created in his honor as admiral of the navy this popular here found his occupation gone, and the Navy department was at a loss with the demotion of the demigod fighter. The solution was to make him chief of the general board of the navy, an agency which, happily, came into being about that time.
Went on Vacation
When General Pershing came back from France he opened office for a few days, ostensibly completing the demobilization. Then he went on a long deferred vacation and returned to the Adirondacks. Returning to Washington he went, or was sent, on a trip of inspection of all the posts in the nation. Most of the posts had been created since that date in 1917 when he sailed away to command the American Expeditionary force. Pershing's trip was what he could of the work done at home in making his army. It is not known that there is any other object in this trip than to give the general a trip to see the country and to get the question of what to do with him. The trip is drawing to a close and the difficulty will again be thrust to the fore.
The problem arises chiefly because of the present organization of the army. If there were a field army, the general might be placed in command of it, and there the matter would rest. But there is no field army. The army is divided into different departments of equal rank. There is no individual who exercises authority over the departments of the army directed from Washington by the commander-in-chief, who is president of the United States. He works through a secretary of war. The secretary of war is a chief of staff appointed by the president. He is the immediate advisor of the secretary of war. The secretary of war is the military establishment, and is charged by the secretary of war with the planning, execution, and execution of the army program. According to the old army regulations he takes rank and precedence over all of the other officers of the army.
The job of chief of staff seems to be the only birth that would suit the rank of general. It is a position already snugly held down, however, by General Peyton C. March, of this rank of the family of Washington. March has something of a reputation as a holder down. He is a home from France, on whose staff he served as military chief, and it is understood that the commander-in-chief is satisfied with the cooperation he received. If March is satisfactory as chief of staff it is fair to remove him and to give the position to Pershing.
General Pershing and General March met the other night at a reception in Washington. Their general was cordial, and General Pershing produced a newspaper clipping from his pocket. The clipping dwelt at length upon the friction between the two. General Pershing had suffered much inconvenience because of that friction, and the man from overseas chuckled and said: "Not yet."
But if the chief of staff takes precedence over all other officers in the army, and if General March is demoted to brigadier general on June 1, in accordance with the present plan, a brigadier general would outrank a full general, which is impossible. So there is a nice kettle of fish.
Congress Favors Pershing
Congress has shown a pronounced tendency to favor Pershing and to demote March. It voted down the proposal to make March a general of equal rank with Pershing. Now there is a bill in congress which proposes to legislate Pershing into the position of chief of staff. As surely there is much in all of this, there is much in the fact that the man against each other. So far, however, there is no evidence of peevishness on either side.
In Washington, how well he doubt if Pershing wants to be chief of staff. He has been the "man on horseback" in front of three years. He has been the man of action in the field. As chief of staff he would be a desk soldier. It would be a desk job, and he would like it. Maybe he would rather go from the big war into retirement. He has indicated an intention to do so. Then of course there is the matter of a certain bee that is today buzzing in many bonnets. Pershing may yet be a candidate for the presidency. The role of history that the military leader in time of war becomes the chief executive in the peace that follows still holds good. There is still worry over what to do with Pershing. The solution will probably wait on time.

WHO'S WHO in the Daily News
IRVING T. BUSH
Irving T. Bush has been mentioned as a planning made for General Leonard Wood on the republican ticket. He is known as a good organizer and public speaker. His sympathies strongly favor the working man. It is said that prominent republicans in Washington in close touch with the national committee are urging Bush's name as a constructive peace program.
Mr. Bush was born in Hillsdale, Michigan, and has just turned 56. He has been in the Roosevelt brand of Americanism, and is a believer in universal military training. Like Roosevelt, he has American-Dutch ancestry. The Ter Bush family having come to this country from Holland 150 years ago. He started a business career when in his teens. In commercial life he is known as the head of a shipping line in Brooklyn, New York which he turned over to the government during the war. That Bush is good timber for the presidency is the opinion of a writer in the Brooklyn "Eagle," who says: "Bush is broad, deep, logical, and is inspired to benefit humanity. President Wilson is a man in expressing his ideas, but Bush has a just and benevolent appraisal of the needs of humanity, and he has tested and proved his wisdom by what he has done and is doing in his youthful days."

Around the State
Appleton.—The Ideal Lumber and Coal company of this city received the largest car of hard coal ever delivered in Appleton. It contained 143,299 pounds more than 71 tons, coming direct from the Pennsylvania mines.
Ashland.—The open season for rabbits expired Jan. 15. About five years ago an epidemic killed thousands of rabbits in the upper lake country, but for the past two years rabbits have begun to get thick again, and this winter rabbit hunters have had no difficulty in bagging them in considerable numbers. Rabbits have been so scarce for several years since the epidemic that the annual hunting parties of Ashland sportsmen, which have been a drive to drive a rabbit supper, have had to be abandoned.
Ashland.—Captain Thoreson, who distinguished himself at Chateau Thierry, will formally organize a national guard company which will include among its 53 members five sergeants who fought in France, all of whom are graduates of the Bronning machine gun school in France. The requisite of the graduates was the ability to take a machine gun apart blindfolded, naming each part. Captain Thoreson is now undersheriff of Ashland county.
Ashland.—The funeral services of the late Emil Garnick, who died in Florida last week, were held at Ashland Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Garnick was a Knight Templar, Consistory Mason, and a prominent member of the Presbyterian church. The body was brought from Florida by Mr. Garnick's daughters, Miss Belle Garnick, and Mrs. E. B. Baldwin of Sparta.
La Crosse.—La Crosse has a splendid chance of obtaining a government fish rescue station, according to a letter sent to the chamber of commerce here by John J. Esch, congressman from this district.
Rhinelander.—Committees were appointed at a meeting here to visit the manufacturers and merchants in an effort to persuade them to pay regular wages to men in the national guard company while at Camp Douglas. The former pay of $2 per day allowed the men by the government has been reduced to $1.50, which in some measure accounts for the difficulty in enlisting men for the company, say the officers. About 20 officers attended the meeting, which was preceded by a banquet.
Rhinelander.—The annual stockholders and directors meeting of the Wisconsin Grange National Farm Loan association resulted in the election of C. E. Howe, Hazelhurst, as president. The secretary's report showed a total amount of loans of $61,400. It was brought out at the meeting that the farmers of Wisconsin had been loaned $5,013,600 by the organization since its inception.

ON THE SPUR of the MOMENT
ROY K. MOULTON
The high cost of everything has put a crimp in the harem business in Persia and Turkey. A new mode of several other countries. Wives are expensive even when they don't wear hats and effect very little in the way of power. Very few men are adding to their harems and some are sending wives out to do washing and plain sewing. Many of them have sworn off all except six wives, so it can be seen the situation is acute.

TOUCHING
At first she touches up her hair To see if it is in place, And then with manner debonaire, She touches up her face. A touch to curl behind her ear, A touch to cuffs and collars, And then she's off to hubby dear To touch him for ten dollars.

A gentleman in Connecticut thought he would make something out of the colicosts the other day and did so. We went by a recipe which the product would have a great kick. In order to try out the stuff he called in a neighbor and you will never drink anything else. The neighbor never will. The funeral was held from the house on Tuesday at 2 o'clock.

The Gazette maintains an information bureau at Washington, D. C., under the direction of Frederic J. Haskin. Questions will be answered on any subject. Those desiring information, may write a letter to the Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau, Washington, D. C., and enclose a stamp. The letter will be answered by the bureau.
Q. What is the religious belief of Major General Leonard Wood? A. E. L.
Q. Senator Moses, his Washington campaign manager, says that he is a member of the Episcopal church. Q. What speaker of the house of representatives served the longest? A. E. R.
Q. This honor is divided among three men—Henry Clay, Joseph Cannon, and Champ Clark. Each of them served four terms as speaker.
Q. Name the leading castes in India. A. There are four great castes in India. They are: The Brahmins, or priests; the military caste; the Vaishya, or husbandmen; and the Sudra, or menials of the industrial workers; and, finally, the Serfs, who till the soil.
Q. Is there any method by which a woolen garment can be laundered to prevent it from pricking the skin? A. V. B.
Q. If woolen underwear is carefully washed, and the use of strong soap is avoided, it is less likely to irritate. Many people, whose skin is unusually sensitive, find it convenient to wear light summer underwear underneath the woollens.
Q. Does the United States pay Panama an annual rent for the Panama Canal Zone? A. S. S.
Q. According to the treaty between the two countries, the United States was to pay Panama the sum of $10,000,000 outright for the canal zone and $250,000 annually as long as she continued to occupy it. This payment began Feb. 26, 1913, and is still being made.
Q. What does it cost the government to keep an enlisted man in the army for one year? C. L. H.
Q. The War department states that before the war the approximate cost of keeping a soldier for one year was $360. This included his food, clothing, medical attention and incidentals.
Q. Will you give me a brief sketch of the life of Jack London? F. W.
Q. He was born in San Francisco in 1876 and died Nov. 22, 1916. At 17 years of age he shipped before the mast as an able-bodied seaman. Later he tramped through the United States and Canada. After a short time at the University of California he went with the first rush to the Klondike. He was a newspaper correspondent during the Russo-Japanese war, and in 1914 was correspondent in Mexico. Among his most popular books are "The Sea Wolf," "The Call of the Wild," and "The Star Rover."

Q. What was the relationship between President John Adams and President John Quincy Adams? S. E. T.
A. John Quincy Adams, the sixth president of the United States, was the eldest son of John Adams, second president of the republic.

HAGGART ELECTED NEW PRESIDENT OF FIRST NAT'L BANK

Harry S. Haggart, for 25 years an employee of the First National Bank, was elected president of that institution at a meeting of the board of directors yesterday afternoon, succeeding John G. Rexford, who will retire.

Other officers elected were: William McCue, cashier; Robert H. Conway and Fred H. Palmer, assistant cashiers. H. S. Lovejoy was re-elected vice-president.

Mr. Haggart entered the bank as a messenger in April 1895. In 1903 he was made assistant cashier and was elected cashier in 1912, which office he has held for the past seven years.

William McCue has seen many years' service in the First National bank, entering in October 1903 as a messenger, being elected assistant cashier in 1911.

Robert Conway, who recently resumed his work with the First National bank after returning from service in France, has had many years' banking experience. He is the son of William Conway, La. Prairie.

Fred H. Palmer has a record of 12 years' service with the First National as manager of the savings department and auditor.

All the new officers were born and raised in Rock county, receiving their banking education under the retiring president John Rexford.

Mr. Rexford will continue to perform his duties as an officer after more than 60 years' service, but will remain a member of the board of directors.

Resources of the bank now aggregate $3,800,000.

WOMAN, 61, SEEKS DIVORCE; HE'S 65

Sixty-one years of age, Mrs. Wilhelmina Borchardt, La. Prairie, seeks a divorce from her husband, William Borchardt, 65, Broadhead, on grounds of cruelty, according to papers filed today in the office of the clerk of circuit court here. They were married on October 6, 1913, in Janesville, the third venture on the seas of matrimony for Mrs. Borchardt, the second for him.

The woman has a minor son, Frank Osterman, a former marriage. Upon this latest marriage it was agreed that she would live with the couple, paying his board. After three years, the step-father objected to his presence and ordered him out, according to the charges.

This action, coupled with accusations of constant nagging by Mr. Borchardt, which affected her health, usually poor, she would like to see a woman to leave him January 7 last year, she alleges.

The case is expected to come up in the present term of circuit court.

Rural School News

Two more rural schools have reported that they are 100 percent white. Miss White, Johnson Center, has turned in 117.75, and Miss Eliza Beth Barrett, Joint district 10, Lima and Johnston, has turned in 93.

Supt. O. D. Antisdel is visiting schools in Lima today.

Miss Jennie Dean, supervising teacher, visited schools in Clinton today.

Miss Genevieve Jacobs, Mt. Pleasant, entertained her pupils at a bob ride Thursday evening. After the ride an oyster supper was served.

Miss Irene Jones, district 3, La. Prairie, is serving warm lunch every day in her school. New readers for the pupils have been installed.

Miss Bertha Lapp, district 4, Plymouth, called at the superintendent's office recently.

Miss Bernice Austin, district 4, Harmony, who has been ill for three weeks, will take up her duties Monday.

MUNN AND CLARK NAMED EXAMINERS

Drs. W. A. Munn and Irving A. Clark have been appointed county medical and dental examiners, respectively, the appointments coming from Washington. Ex-service men who still maintain the war risk insurance are entitled to medical and dental attention from the county examiners. Any dental work contracted for while they were in service or wounds received must be cared for by the inspectors. Ex-service men will not be charged for the services which they receive from the doctors. The government pays the fees.

Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Faust, Mr. and Mrs. George Bassford.

CITIZENS DEMAND ACTION ON CROSSING

One day. The railroad commission is in sympathy with this project. They know that railroad facilities are inadequate. Raise the money by direct taxation. Next year the double track property in this city will be double that which was taxable in 1914.

Dr. Sutherland said he believed it was the law that railroads should maintain and repair their property, then the money for elevation would come from the railroads and not from the taxpayers.

Mayor Welsh said he was under the impression the railroads had agreed at the hearing with the commission recently he was informed they did not have to pay. The mayor said the commission could not be ordered to do this and so said made to pay for the work.

Railroads Stand Burden

Charles Moore, county highway commissioner, said he believed the railroads would have to stand the expense of elevating the tracks.

Mr. Woodruff said he felt that the commission would try to make a compromise Wednesday. Dr. Sutherland said the city again accepted the compromise there would be no chance of ever eliminating the danger. The mayor told them that if they were the city, they would have as much to say at the hearing Wednesday as anyone.

E. T. Fish declared he thought the only way to make an impression on the commission was for every first and fifth ward citizen, men, women and children—to turn out to the hearing. The mayor said that if the intentions of both roads would be present and he too urged all persons interested to attend.

The highway commission upon the motion of F. C. Grant asked the council to recommend them to make a plan for solving the crossing danger. Mr. Grant said that the plan of Dr. Nolan regarding the elevation of the tracks was accepted tentatively by the commission. The plan for a union depot was not considered by the commission.

Many serious, minor and near accidents at the crossings were cited. All agreed that as it is, the gates are more of a hindrance than a protection.

FARMERS REFUSE TO AID ROAD OPENING

Continuation of the work of cleaning the Janesville-Evansville road of snow was made by the auto dealers in their trucks and teams today. Though the chief suffering from touch with them in order to learn what progress has been made, it was understood that they have cleared the highway for about a mile past Leyden, a little less than one-half of the entire distance.

While no trouble was experienced in cleaning the road free of snow, farmers were concerned, no help has been forthcoming since yesterday from the farmers. Those who said that they would aid have now demanded pay for the work after they had learned that a fund of $1500 had been raised for the project. In one place, the chief suffering from having the roadway opened, declaring that it would hurt the soil itself.

ACCIDENT VICTIMS IMPROVING SLOWLY

Three victims of accidents who were removed to Mercy hospital for treatment were reported today as recovering slowly.

John G. Wolf, who was injured Friday evening while sliding down hill, is still in a serious condition, according to word given out at the hospital. She was seriously injured, internally.

Peter Conley, engineer, who suffered burns and a broken shoulder when his train was derailed near Milton, is slowly recovering after several weeks in the hospital. While his arm is still in a sling it no longer pains him, the chief suffering from being from the burns about his feet and legs.

It was at first thought that Ray Carlson, who fell from a foundry at the Samson Tractor company, was seriously injured, but his injuries have proved to be of a less serious nature.

where a conference was held.

On the way back to the village, M. Zorin, told Berkmann that Admiral Kolchak had been made prisoner in Siberia.

The whole party detained at a point where a Russian leaves the railway and runs toward the forest. A few who were unable to wait were placed on sleighs.

Conditions have considerably improved in Petrograd, according to M. Zorin, who said everyone there was getting on well. There was comparatively little idleness and wood and fuel were abundant. The greatest difficulty had been experienced in getting coal to operate factories, but recently as a result of improved transportation some had been brought up from the south.

M. Zorin spoke enthusiastically of an experiment begun last week in organizing military forces for work.

"Our crack third army, which was the best of those used in Siberia against Kolchak, was withdrawn from the front," he said, "and although this organization is kept under strict military discipline it is no longer fighting, but is a working machine. Its principal task is supplying Petrograd with food which is secured direct from peasants, and bringing in wood. As our military institutions decrease, we hope to convert more of our troops to industrial purposes, still keeping each unit intact on a military footing."

PLAN NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE TO INCLUDE CLUB IN JANESVILLE

La Crosse, Jan. 19.—A professional baseball league, comprising the cities of La Crosse, Winona, Minn., Dubuque, Ia., Freeport, Ill., Janesville, Madison, Green Bay, and Ashland, Wis., is being proposed by several La Crosse businessmen.

Letters broaching the proposition have been sent to most of the cities, and it is claimed that conditions prevailing at this time after the war, with the elimination of the saloon, will benefit baseball.

It is claimed that the above cities are connected with professional leagues at this time.

While the sporting editor of the Gazette has received a letter from the La Crosse businessmen, claiming the matter of forming a club here this year is still in the embryo state, it is too early to make any announcement. Plans are being made, however, that Janesville will be represented by a ball club this season, if not in this proposed league, in some other. This is a possibility of more than one team here.

CASSIDY AND FIFIELD TEAMS WIN AT 'Y'

With Cassidy scoring 18 of their 30 points, Cassidy's team in the senior league at the Y. M. C. A. in basketball here last night, 20-20, beat Richardson's team. Cassidy's team had a very close game, but in the end they won. Cassidy's team had a very close game, but in the end they won.

READY TO FIGHT LIFE'S BATTLES

The men and women who win life's battles are physically and mentally right. They take care of themselves and make sure that their blood is charged with life-giving iron and their nerves fed with phosphates.

The foremost doctors all over the world are depending more and more on iron and phosphates to rebuild run-down, overworked men and women, old before their time.

They claim that the healthy, strong, successful men and happy, rosy-cheeked women always have an abundance of Phosphated Iron in their blood; that it is the secret of good health.

Every man and woman can be made strong, keen, healthy and alert, enjoy life's pleasures, if they will renew their blood with iron and phosphates.

Phosphated Iron makes new, rich, red blood, strengthens the nerves, and often increases the strength and vitality of its users 100 per cent. Thousands of men and women "all-in" and worn out have experienced a most astonishing increase of strength and endurance in a very short time by simply taking Phosphated Iron.

Phosphated Iron is put up in capsules only. Do not take inferior pills or tablets. Ask for Phosphated Iron capsules. For sale by Smith Drug Co. and leading druggists everywhere.

JANESVILLE TEAMS IN MANITOWOC MEET

At least four teams will be entered from this city in the Wisconsin State Bowling league tournament which opens at Manitowoc January 23. The Arcade five and the Gazette five have been entered in the five-man contests and the doubles and singles. They will roll off the five-man games on the evening of February 1 at 10:30, the other games on February 2 at 8 a. m.

It is expected that the Goldfish and one other team from the West Side alleys will roll.

Manitowoc, Jan. 20. Entries for the Wisconsin State Bowling league, which were counted on Monday, promised to break all world's records for meets of this kind, according to Judge A. H. Schmidt, president of the Wisconsin State Bowling association.

The pins will start to fall on the night of Jan. 23, when the tournament will be officially opened. A total of 744 teams have been entered. Only those whose applications were in the mail before midnight on Sunday will be accepted, but it is believed that because of delayed mail service the number may reach well over 800.

Rolls First Bull.

"Wisconsin is upholding its name as the greatest bowling state in the country," said Judge Schmidt. "Never before has this number of entries for a tournament of this kind been equalled."

Fred Vite, president of the Aluminum company at Manitowoc, has entered eighty-five teams, the greatest number ever entered in any tournament of any single concern. The teams will be known as the Milwaukee Aluminum No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3. On the opening night, Vite will be given the honor of rolling first ball because of his phenomenal entry.

Enrolled 300 Teams

The 300 teams from Manitowoc alone surpass by fifty, the highest mark ever made before from the same city. Last year Green Bay had 250.

The Federal Rubber company of Milwaukee has entered the second largest number of teams, and will include one or two pin city with fourteen five-man organizations.

Teams made up of county and city employees, and other prominent teams will bowl on the opening night. Flashlight photographs will be taken of the meet.

As You Were!

—BY—
BUCK
Of the STARS AND STRIPES A. E. F.

EXEMPTED.

(The following was chosen as the best after-war verse appearing in any of the soldier papers of the week. We admit that the selection was wise, first, because we chose the verses ourselves, and second, because we wrote them.)

The tumult and the shouting dies,
The colored and the blacks depart
(To hunt for jobs if they are wise,
And if they haven't lost the art.)

Par-called the Army melts away,
And gradually the laurels fade,
With bonus spent and final pay,
It's back to hammer, pick and spade.

But still the retrospective thought
Of handshakes, eulogy and cheer
And praise for how we bled and fought
Brings forth a warm, contented tear.

Then puff! Our satisfaction flies!
For when they figure what they spent
To welcome us, some one admits
A profiteer got ten percent!

They said a hundred thousand throats
Went hoarse with patriotic win
For us. Oh, no, we were the goats,
A thousand throats went hoarse for him!

We saw a million pennants wave
(We thought they were for us, but now
One reason we must work and save
Is just to pay for his five thou).

But stay! Think what we got last year
From Bertha, mortar, rifle, gas!
At least we trimmed the profiteer
Out of his 10 percent of that.

There may be some satisfaction, says ex-Sergeant S.O.L., in the fact that there isn't quite one war-millionaire for every casualty.

HE WAS THERE.

Nat Peffer, wandering around Shanghai, writes this interview with a Chinese vet of the Great War, for one of the service papers.

"Have you?" "I said in perfect 'pleign English."

"You think so war good not good?"

"Not good."

"Have seen plenty foreign man?"

"Have seen plenty."

"Foreign man make nice for Chinese man that side?"

"Make nice."

"Have you bully beef?"

"Bully beef damn," said he.

Yes, China has been to the wars.

IT WORKED BEFORE.

An Alumnus had seen his old college football team go down to bitter defeat with one blocked pass after another. He had backed his loyalty with a large supply of iron man and the day after he was feeling as blue as a second lieutenant who gets his promotion the day after his discharge.

So he sent this telegram to the college coach:

"Suggest for next year's slogan: 'They shall not forward pass.'"

Our Popular Blouse Department and America's Most Popular--Popularly Priced Waists

New Models on Sale Tomorrow at $1.50

The Wirthmor Waist at $1.50

It's but natural that these nationally popular Wirthmor Waists should have local habitation in our very popular Blouse Department.

We sell and recommend these waists, for while they are so moderately priced, they do possess real character and we do know that each and every one of them will give, as it is guaranteed to give, complete and lasting satisfaction.

These Waists are still being sold at $1.50, although the present cost of the fabrics out of which they are made would warrant a somewhat higher price.

Far-in-advance material purchases and a real honest desire to keep down prices as long as possible explain their continued sale at this low price.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Northwestern won its first conference basketball game last night at Patten gymnasium by defeating Minnesota, 28 to 24, in an overtime contest.

The affair was a real battle from the first call of time until the final buzzer shot. At the end of the first half Northwestern led, 13 to 10, and at the close of the second period, each team had scored 22 points. A five minute overtime period then was agreed upon.

Northwestern made the first point in the overtime period by scoring a free throw. Saunders followed shortly afterward with a field basket. Oss scored from midfield and then Minnesota desperately tried to make baskets from all parts of the floor. In these attempts the Gophers were unsuccessful, while Wilcox and Dunley scored the remaining points for the Purple.

SHARKEY AND HERMAN BOOKED FOR ORLEANS

New Orleans, Jan. 20.—Arrangements practically have been completed for a meeting here between Jack Sharkey, the New York heavyweight, and Pete Herman, holder of the belt in that division. Dominick Tortorella, matchmaker for the Louisiana Auditorium, announced Sunday night that he had reached an agreement with Herman and was waiting only for an acceptance from Sharkey before going ahead with advertising the match. The date has been tentatively set for Feb. 2, with ten rounds as the limit.
